

Nkechi Nwafor-Robinson

CEO & Founder
Empowered In My Skin Inc.

Nkechi Nwafor-Robinson

A true trailblazer and a force to be reckoned with, Nkechi has earned her place among WXN Canada's Most Powerful Women as a Top 100 Award Winner. As a distinguished technology executive, with more than 25 years in the I.T. space, she has held a variety of progressively senior roles within various organizations including Director, Data Center Operations at Rogers Communications; Delivery Project Executive at IBM; Associate Vice President, Technology Solution at TD Bank Group, and most recently, she is Vice President, Technology Operations & Services and Cloud Transformation at EDC.

As well, she is CEO and Founder of Empowered in My Skin Inc., grassroots organization she has nurtured that focuses on self-empowerment and helping humans everywhere thrive on a daily basis. She aspires to help one billion people think in empowering ways. She is a firm believer that empowered people, empower people, which is the key way to create sustainable change in this world.

It is clear, Nkechi brings a wealth of experience and insight to the table.

Beyond her remarkable professional accomplishments, Nkechi wears many hats – from being a captivating podcast host and inspirational speaker to an accomplished author, Board Chair for Build a Dream, and a professional bodybuilder holding the coveted title of IFBB Pro. Her journey is an inspiring tapestry that seamlessly weaves together diverse facets of achievement and resilience.

Speaker | The Disruptive Mindset of a Trailblazer